

TO CURB THE TURKS IS THEIR OBJECT

NEW EUROPEAN TRIPLE ALLIANCE FORMED

Great Britain, Russia and France the Three Powers that Will Intervene to Protect the Armenians—The End of the Eastern Horrors in Sight.

New York, Oct. 14.—A London special cable to an afternoon paper says: "It is learned on unquestionable authority that the Armenian question is finally settled. A working agreement has been reached between Russia, France and England."

This, if true, is the culmination of the new triple alliance, of which there has been some talk during the last fortnight. Hints of the secret formation of this new alliance have been given out in the form of growls from Germany, and by France's boldly delivered ultimatum to the sultan shortly after the late massacres in Constantinople.

It will be remembered that just at the time when England's government was proclaiming its inability to do more than plead with the sultan to return to his policies, France's ambassador to Turkey boldly faced the porte with a demand that he call his butchers off the backs of the tortured Armenians. It will also be recalled that the porte at once promised to make the reforms demanded by France. In view of this last report of the completion of the new triple alliance, it appears not unlikely that France was secretly assured of the joint support of England and Russia before she delivered her ultimatum to the Turk.

The feeling here is that France was chosen to make the demand upon Turkey, merely because neither Russia nor England was willing to trust the other to get any possible advantage in the Levant. Neither fears France in that quarter.

It is uncertain whether the new alliance contemplates the dismemberment of Turkey or the establishing of a regency to control Turkish affairs, rehabilitate Turkish finances, and handpick the assassin who at present occupies the throne. It is believed that the latter policy will be pursued, with France furnishing most of the ready money needed at the outset, Russia appearing in the open as the executor of the alliance's decrees, and England mainly concerned in protecting the $2,000,000,000 which her people have invested in Turkish bonds.

GEN. HARRISON'S TOUR.

Ex-President Will Make Thirty-Two Campaign Speeches in Indiana.

Indianapolis, Oct. 14.—Committeeman Durbin of the national republican committee has completed arrangements with Gen. Harrison to make thirty-two speeches in Indiana. The tour of the state will be divided into two trips, the one to the southern part of the state, beginning Oct. 20 at 9 a. m., and occupying two days. Gen. Harrison will speak at the following places: Mooresville, Martinsville, Spencer, Worthington, Edwardsport, Vincennes, Princeton, Evansville (at night). The special train will then be transferred to New Albany, where he speaks the morning of Oct. 21. On that day he also talks at Borden, Salem, Orleans, Mitchell, Bedford, Bloomington, Gossport, Greencastle.

The trip into the northern part of the state will begin Oct. 30 at 9 a. m., and that day he will speak at Greenfield, Knightstown, Anderson, Muncie, Winchester, Portland and Decatur. Oct. 31 Gen. Harrison will speak at Auburn, Waterloo, Kendallville, Goshen, Warsaw, North Manchester, Wabash, Marion, Summitville, and Alexandria. Gen. Harrison will make his first speech in this city at Tomlinson hall next Saturday night. In addition to the speeches already mentioned, Mr. Harrison will probably make other speeches in Indiana. He, however, refuses to make any speeches outside Indiana.

Claim the Heart of St. Louis.

Akron, Ohio, Oct. 14.—Descendants of Jacob Royer, a Frenchman who settled on the site of St. Louis in the early part of the century, met here Tuesday and decided to commence suit immediately for the possession of a tract of real estate now in the heart of St. Louis, worth $60,000,000. They have also a claim against the French government amounting to millions. Members of the family from Illinois, Michigan, Indiana and Ohio are here.

Famine Caused by Floods.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 14.—Famine is threatened in the Amur province of Asiatic Russia, the crops having been destroyed by flood.

IDENTIFY THE TWO BANDITS.

Sherburne Robbers Prove to Have Been Louis and J. H. Kelliham.

Fairmont, Minn., Oct. 14.—The Sherburne bank-robbery case is completely cleared up. The men who robbed the bank and took two lives were Louis and J. H. Kelliham. Louis killed himself east of Elmore, Minn., after having shot Marshall Galion dead. He was but 18 years of age. The other, in jail here under guard of company D, 3d Minnesota infantry, is 23. Their home was Rock Rapids, Iowa.

J. H. Kelliham said last night that he and his brother had been "down on their luck" for some time, and had concluded to recoup themselves by a robbery. They had looked over the banks at Heron Lake, St. James and Sherburne, and had concluded it was easiest to get over the line from the last named point, so selected it.

Rock Rapids, Iowa, Oct. 14.—The Kelliham boys were born and raised here, and have not been considered as desperate. They were addicted somewhat to reading sensational literature. The parents, who are respectable citizens of this place, are prostrated over the news.

Boom in Wheat at San Francisco.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 14.—Tuesday was a lively day on the floor of the Produce Exchange. Wheat is advancing on heavy orders from shippers. Three ships have been laden with wheat for Calcutta so far this month, and continued large purchases for shipment in November and December for Australia were also made to-day. December wheat advanced 4½ cents and May wheat 5½ cents, December closing strong at $1.30½ and May at $1.33½. If grain continues to advance the California farmers will enjoy a season of unexampled prosperity.

Forest Fires Do Great Damage.

Houghton, Mich., Oct. 14.—Forest fires are doing great damage in Marquette, Houghton and Ontonagon counties. Logging contractors have lost heavily on cord wood, logs, cedar posts and other forest products which were cut and piled in the woods awaiting shipment. No towns are at present in danger, though a score or more homesteaders have lost their buildings, and others will probably be burned in the near future.

Name the Ticket.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 14.—The state board of elections Tuesday decided that the electoral ticket of the gold democrats should be called the gold-standard ticket. The board had previously notified S. O. Pickens, the chairman of the state central committee of the national democrats, that the ticket could not go on the ballot under the name of national democrats and had requested him to send in another name. This Mr. Pickens declined to do.

Court Will Review Petition.

Des Moines, Iowa, Oct. 14.—Judge C. C. Cole, chairman of the legal committee of the state democratic committee, has prepared a writ of certiorari, directed to the state reviewing board, Attorney-General Remley, Secretary of State McFarland and Auditor McCarthy, directing them to bring into court Thursday the petition of the gold democrats and their findings for review by the court. This is the contention of the silver men, who want the gold democratic party to change its name.

Contest Over the Ballot.

Lansing, Mich., Oct. 14.—The supreme court will hold a special session Thursday to consider the application of Chairman Baker and Russell for the democratic people's union silver and prohibition state committees for writs of mandamus to compel the Wayne county election commission to place their respective tickets second on the official ballot, the commission having decided to give the place to the gold democratic ticket.

Powers View of Turkey.

London, Oct. 14.—Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, chancellor of the exchequer, speaking at Darlington, declared that the actual position of the powers with regard to the eastern question was that Russia, Austria and Germany were determined, with a view to preserving European peace, to maintain the status quo in Turkey. England's present policy, the chancellor of the exchequer affirmed, was to secure a concert of the powers to insist upon reform. He asserted most emphatically that the government did not desire to act alone or to obtain any special advantage for England.

Harcourt Wants to Retire.

London, Oct. 14.—It is rumored in political circles that Sir William Harcourt has intimated his wish to resign the leadership of the liberal party in the house of commons and that he has written a letter to Mr. Gladstone to show that no ignoble ambition has guided his action, which is said to be due to his failing eyesight. Inquiries made at the liberal headquarters how that nothing is known of the reports there, and they are not believed to be true.

680 Rebels Killed.

Madrid, Oct. 14.—The Imparcial has a letter from Manila, dated Sept. 15, to the effect that Spanish troops defeated the rebels at Imus, killing 80 of them. In another engagement at San Isidro the rebels were defeated with a loss of 600 killed.

REPUBLICANS FROM TWO STATES VISIT M'KINLEY.

Miners, Mechanics and Others From Lehigh Valley in Pennsylvania and a Delegation From Sandusky Ohio, Arrive—Union Generals in Indiana—Republican News.

Canton, O., Oct. 14.—A special train of six coaches arrived Tuesday after being en route since 5 o'clock Monday evening, bearing miners, mechanics and other citizens of the Lehigh valley of Pennsylvania. Owing to the inclement weather, the visitors were taken to the tabernacle, where Maj. McKinley received their greetings. The visitors were introduced by ex-Congressman Charles N. Brumm.

Shouting republicans from Sandusky, O., arrived from two directions, the first detachment of several carloads coming in over the Cleveland, Canton & Southern railroad, and the other coming over the interurban line via Massillon. Clyde, Fremont, Bellevue and Green Spring were represented in the party of 800 to 1,000. The demonstration was held in the Tabernacle, where Thomas Dewey delivered the introduction, to which Maj. McKinley responded.

The Repository, Maj. McKinley's local organ, prints a list prepared by Capt. J. P. Slemmons of the state insurance department. The table is significant in that it is known to represent the probable views of the republican standard-bearer himself on the present status of the campaign. The table claims that McKinley will have 264 electoral votes certain, with thirty-eight in the doubtful column. The states named as doubtful are California, Nebraska, Kentucky, Oregon and Washington. In the so-believed certain states are included Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Vermont, Wisconsin, Kansas, North Dakota, South Dakota, Wyoming and West Virginia.

Gov. Altgeld Crosses Illinois.

Marshall, Ill., Oct. 14.—The entire democratic state ticket, re-enforced by relays of the country members, embarked in East St. Louis Tuesday at daylight, and, comfortably housed in a special flyer, followed the Vandallia line across Illinois from west to east. At night the travelers rested in Marshall, right over against Indiana. In the party are Judge M. C. Crawford, Col. E. C. Pace, Finis E. Downing, Gen. Alfred Orendorff of Springfield, Maj. W. V. Callon, Jacksonville; W. E. Willaims, Pittsburg; S. V. P. Arnold, Springfield, and D. R. Levy.

Cattlemen Meet at Fort Worth.

Fort Worth, Tex., Oct. 14.—The National Live Stock Exchange began its seventh annual session here Tuesday. The executive committee presented a lengthy report, dealing largely with the question in relation to foreign governments discriminating against the American live stock product and the exportation of Canadian cattle through the United States ports. Quarantine lines as construed by Secretary Morton were also discussed, and as a result stringent appeals to congress for relief will be proposed. Every member of the executive committee is present and every live stock center of the United States has representatives here.

Increased Demand for Gold.

New York, Oct. 14.—An increased demand for cash gold is reported by bullion dealers without a perceptible change in the premium from yesterday. Lots of from $300 to $10,000 are being purchased for the account of individuals and financial institutions in the west and southwest. It is alleged that money, that in the ordinary course of events would have been remitted to New York, is coming back very slowly. Cash gold is quoted at 5-16½ per cent; gold to arrive, ½@3-16 and calls at 1¼@1½ per cent.

Sharkey Eager to Fight.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 14.—Tom Sharkey, the sailor pugilist, will leave for New York on Saturday and will leave no stone unturned to make Corbett keep his agreement to fight. Sharkey says he will pull Corbett's nose if necessary to make him fight. If he cannot get up a fight with Corbett or Fitzsimmons, Sharkey will go to South Africa, where he will be matched against Joe Goddard.

Will Have to Petition.

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 14.—If the "middle of the road" populists get on the official ballot they have to do it by petition and under a different name from that of people's party. This is the decision of the board of review after giving a hearing to Messrs. Burdick and Nolan of Chicago, who represent what is known as the "Burns faction," or popularly the "middle of the roaders."

For Routine Work.

Washington, Oct. 14.—The general executive board of the Knights of Labor is in session here at their headquarters, looking after the routine business of the order.

SPEECHES MADE TO MINNESOTA VOTERS.

Democratic Candidate For President Addresses Crowds at Various Places on the Way to Lake Superior's Famous City—Gov. Altgeld's Illinois Tour—Popocratic News.

Duluth, Minn., Oct. 14.—The private car "Idler," bearing William Jennings Bryan and his party, rolled in to the Northern Pacific station in this city shortly after 6 o'clock, and the candidate made two speeches here Tuesday night. The day's campaigning tour had covered the road from Minneapolis to Duluth, and at several stations of size along the line Mr. Bryan spoke to goodly crowds. Upon his arrival in this city he was met by a reception committee, and with Mrs. Bryan was escorted to the St. Louis hotel for dinner. He was then driven to the Lyceum theater, where he addressed an enthusiastic meeting of women. Thence he proceeded to the car barn, which was packed with the laboring men of Duluth. Charles A. Towne was chairman of both meetings, and at each of them he presented the nominee in a neat little speech.

Mr. Bryan's party left at night at 11:40 o'clock over the South Shore railroad under the charge of the Michigan delegation en route for the northern peninsula of Michigan. His first speech will be at Iron Mountain to-morrow at 1:45 p. m. The second will be made at Ishpeming at 6:30 o'clock and the third at Marquette at 7:50 o'clock. Mr. Bryan will leave Marquette at 10 o'clock for Mackinac City, where he will arrive Thursday at 7:30 a. m.

Duluth, Minn., Oct. 14.—William J. Bryan began early Tuesday on his actual work for this week's campaign. The special car "Idler" was pulled out of Minneapolis with the Bryan party aboard at 8 o'clock, and in a short time the citizens of the small towns between the twin cities and Duluth were listening to the free silver doctrine as proclaimed by the standard-bearer of that principle.

GENERALS AT LAFAYETTE.

Alger and His Party Address Large Crowds Along the Way.

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 14.—A big demonstration was held Tuesday afternoon by the republicans of this and adjoining counties in honor of Gen. Russell A. Alger and his party of ex-soldiers. Delegations reached the city from every direction, coming as far as from Danville, Ill. Gen. Alger and his party arrived a few minutes after 2 o'clock, and were met at the Wabash depot by a procession numbering 2,500 persons, mounted and on foot. The visitors were escorted to a large circus tent on South 3d street, where 5,000 persons were waiting to see and hear them. Col. R. P. Dehart presided at the meeting, and introduced the speakers.

Logansport, Ind., Oct. 14.—The union generals spoke here Tuesday to 3,000 persons. The special train which brought them from the northern part of the state was fifty minutes late, but the crowd waited patiently, and when the party at last arrived it was greeted with enthusiasm.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 14.—The union generals arrived in town last night accompanied by the booming of cannon. The visitors addressed big audiences in all the available halls in the city. Gen. Sickles spoke at Tomlinson hall, which was packed with an enthusiastic audience.

Tanner arrived from the east on a special train, and both addressed the people from a stand in the court house park. There were large parades in the afternoon and evening. Francis W. Parker and Prof. Gunther of Maine spoke at night.

Funeral of George Du Maurier.

London, Oct. 14.—Hampstead church was crowded Tuesday with friends and relatives of the late George Du Maurier, the artist-author, who died on Thursday last, and whose remains were cremated at Woking on Saturday. It was the day set apart for the funeral services, and it attracted a large crowd of the artistic and literary men and others, including the entire staff of Punch, Burnand, Lucy, Furness, Walter Besant, Brancroft, Poynter, Alfred Gilbert, Henry James, Prof. Lankester, and many others.

Capt. Kane Hangs Himself.

Washington, Oct. 14.—Department clerks on their way to work from Woodside, Md., about ten miles from town, Tuesday discovered the body of Captain Simon Kane, a former member of the Seventeenth Wisconsin volunteers, suspended from a limb of a tree that had been blown over in the recent storm. Captain Kane had been living in the soldiers' homes at Milwaukee, Wis., and at Marion, Ind., practicing at both places as a claim agent. About a month ago he went to New York, and his money giving out, he sought to enter the home at Hampton, Va. It is believed he feared his application might not be successful, and therefore committed suicide.

TO DEFEY THE SULTAN.

United States Cruisers to Force the Dardanelles.

Washington, Oct. 14.—A great international test is to be made in the course of the next week at the Dardanelles. The United States warship Bancroft is to force its way into the forbidden waters of the Ottoman empire and settle grave diplomatic questions of three years.

The plan is an important move towards the settlement of numberless controversies with the Ottoman government. Commander Charles Belknap has orders to proceed without delay to Constantinople, the hitherto practically forbidden capital port of will board the Bancroft, which will become the dispatch boat of our legation by this simple action.

No formal request is to be preferred for the privilege of entering the Sea of Marmora and no opportunity will be given the porte to exercise the powers of denial.

It is not anticipated the Turkish authorities, on learning of the purpose of Minister Terrell, will resist forcibly the approach of the Bancroft to their capital. That action is fraught with too many disastrous results. Besides, the United States government has the tacit support of Russia and other foreign powers in its movement to command the sultan's attention.

TYNAN IS RELEASED.

Cables the Announcement to His Wife in New York.

Paris, Oct. 14.—The minister of justice, M. Darlan, at a cabinet council Tuesday submitted reasons for refusing the extradition of P. J. P. Tynan, the Irish-American alleged dynamiter, now in custody at Boulogne-sur-Mer. He said that the evidence that Tynan is the so-called "No. 1" is not conclusive, nor is it proved that Tynan was connected with the Phoenix park murders. Even had these premises been established, said M. Darlan, the case is covered by the ten years' limit.

New York, Oct. 14.—Mrs. P. J. P. Tynan received a cablegram from her husband which said: "Am released. Hope to greet you in New York!"

Wyatt Confesses to Murder.

Canton, Ill., Oct. 14.—John R. Wyatt, sentenced to the penitentiary at the Fulton county circuit court last week for grand larceny, hanged himself in the county jail Saturday. Before the act he confessed that he murdered D. T. Gilliam at Alton about six years ago. The murdered man was ex-state senator and at the time of his death a member of the state board of agriculture. He was killed by burglars, whom he discovered in his house. Tom Brown and George Sterchey were found guilty of the killing and sentenced to the penitentiary for thirty years on the testimony of Wyatt, who said he held their team outside. Sterchey has since died and Brown is confined at Chester.

Fusion in Virginia.

Washington, Oct. 14.—N. W. Fitzgerald, the populist nominee for governor of West Virginia, was in consultation with Senator Butler Tuesday over the long distance telephone concerning the attitude of the officers of the populist state committee in West Virginia on the question of fusion. He says the senator assured him he would not recognize the right of officers to negative the wishes of the majority of the committee, but that on the other hand he would recognize the right of the committee to act independent of its officers. It is believed that populist headquarters that this decision on the part of Senator Butler will promote fusion between the democrats and populists in West Virginia.

Nine Sailors Rescued.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 14.—The British steamer Evelyn, Captain Horner, from Huelva, Spain, anchored in the Delaware river Tuesday evening, having on board the almost lifeless bodies of nine seamen, the crew of the Norwegian bark Lovise, who were picked up at sea after being adrift without food or water for nine days. Their condition when rescued was a most pitiable one, and so faint had they become that it was necessary to tie lines to them and haul their attenuated and trembling forms on board the steamship. The particulars of the terrible suffering of the men are meager, as they are still too weak to go into details.

A motto for working men and women:

"A dollar's worth of dollar for a dollar's worth of work."

THIS DAY IN HISTORY.

1644—William Penn, courtier and alleged conspirator in England and founder of Pennsylvania, born in London; died there 1718.

1794—Francis Lightfoot Lee, "signer," born in Westmoreland county, Va.; died 1797.

1806—Preston King, statesman, born at Ogdensburg, N. Y.; drowned 1855.

1870—Hurricane devastated Cuba; 2,000 deaths; the disaster added to the horrors of the fierce civil war then raging on the island.

1883—Terrible storm on the great lakes; the propeller Dean Richmond lost at Van Buren point, with 22 persons.

1886—General Erasmus D. Keyes, a prominent Federal general in 1862, died at Nice; born 1816.

1890—Clara Doty Bates, the authoress, died in Chicago. Andrew J. Moulder, a pioneer educator of San Francisco, died in that city; born 1827.

"HOW DO WE GET THEM?"

"How are we to get any of that free silver?" is the way workingmen respond to popocratic promises.

Their question reaches the very heart of the matter. One of the great weaknesses of the financial philosophy of the Bryanites is to be found in the fact that it makes no provision for putting and keeping the proposed abundance of silver dollars in circulation. To be sure, the owners of silver bullion could get it coined and use it in the payment of debts; but the number of people who have silver bullion or own mines from which they can obtain it is comparatively small, and the amount of indebtedness which could be discharged with such money is not nearly so great as the aggregate of obligations that call for gold and would have to be paid at the rate of 10 dollars for one if silver should be employed for the purpose. Mr. Bryan talks as if it would be possible for every man to gather up bullion in any desired quantity, like so much dirt, take it to the mint, and come back with a load of silver dollars. But as a matter of fact, no such thing could be done. The bullion would have to be paid for in some way; the silver dollars could only be secured in exchange for some form of labor or some kind of commodity. In other words, it would be true of the new dollars, as it is of the present ones, that they would circulate only to the extent of the general demands of business, and nobody could get them on any easier terms than those which now exist.

Granting that all debtors who have not specifically agreed to pay gold would proceed to cancel their debts with the cheap dollars would thus acquire continuous circulation and perform a service of stimulation in all branches of trade and industry. On the contrary, they would inevitably, by reason of their depreciated value, make such a result impossible. The same influences that now control the circulation of money would go on controlling it. There would be no way to force the new and plentiful dollars into the channels of commerce in the absence of a legitimate demand for them, and the demand would not be increased because of their multiplication. "A dollar is a question of law," says Mr. Bryan; but it is not possible to legislate a dollar into any kind of business or any sort of investment in an arbitrary way and in spite of unfavorable conditions. The things that govern the course of money, making it active or idle, are not subject to the authority of congress or the president. They belong to the domain of independent and self-adjusting forces, and the circulation of money is wholly dependent upon them. Therefore, a proposition to inflate the currency to an unlimited measure does not carry with it any assurance of a larger supply of money in actual use, or a better chance for the average citizen to fill his pockets with it.

THE TWO SIDES

Mr. Bryan frequently boasts in his speeches that where one democrat leaves him sixteen republicans and populists come to him through the same hole. It is certainly a very different sort of people going out and coming in through that hole. Here is a patriot record made up by the Louisville Courier-Journal.

Some who have left Some who have come

Bryan: Feffer, Pennoyer, Bloddy - Bridles

The entire democratic cabinet: Weaver, Tom-Tom Watson, Sockless Simpson, Silver Miner Stewart, Silver Miner Teller, Silver Miner Jones, Coxey, Carl Browne, Debs, Mary Yellin's Lease.

Senator Lin say, Senator Gray, Senator Palmer, Senator Caffery, Senator Vilas, Gov. O'Fallon, Ex-Gov. Buckner, Ex-Gov. Waller, Ex-Gov. Jones, Ex-Gov. Lee, Ex-Gov. Flower, Bourke Cockran, Fairchild, Bragg, Whitney, Bynum, Fellows, Every prominent democratic leader in New York except Hill, And hundreds of others of equal influence.

There is no reason to doubt that the silver vote is going to count for a good deal in favor of the republican party in Wisconsin this year. There are thousands of democrats who are not talking politics very much, but who are keeping up the sort of thinking that will give their votes to McKinley when they come to cast them.

Mr. Bryan's speech in which he likens himself successively to Jackson, Jefferson, Lincoln and the Saviour is enough to remind most folks that four months ago not one American in fifty had ever heard Bryan's name.

Question—What is a politician?

Answer—A politician is a man who understands politics.

Q.—What is politics?

A.—Politics is the art of getting a $700 man a $3,000 job.

Q.—Is that all there is to politics?

A.—No.

Q.—What else?

A.—The man has to study out a way to get reelected to his $3,000 job without spending $2,900 with the boys.—Chicago Journal.

A Chosen Occupation.

"It is strange," remarked the observant man, "but very few people are content to do what they are best qualified for. Painters long to be musicians, and musicians long to be authors, and so it goes."

"Yes," replied the business man, "but there are exceptions to every rule. I know a young man who has been doing the same thing for years, and he seems perfectly satisfied with it."

"What has he been doing?"

"Nothing."—Washington Star.

Contest in Connecticut.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 14.—The democratic state central committee of Connecticut has forwarded to State Secretary Mowry a notice of a contest to prevent the use by the gold democrats of the title "national democratic ticket" on their ballots. storm in the East Ends.
Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 14.—The West Indian hurricane which carried death and destruction before it and has devastated the New Jersey coast during the past forty-eight hours has finally spent its force. Some half dozen lives have been lost and more than $150,000 worth of property destroyed. The greatest damage was done at Atlantic City, Anglesea, Sea Isle City and Holly Beach. The railroad companies will be the heaviest losers in Atlantic City, the damage to their road beds alone amounting to over $20,000.

GEN. BRAGG ARRIVED AT NOON TODAY

ARRANGEMENT FOR TONIGHT'S RALLY COMPLETE.

Railway Men's Sound Money Club Will Do Escort Duty Carrying Red and White Lanterns—Imperial Band to Head the Column—Other Plans.

This will be a great night for the believers in honest money. General Bragg—the fearless General Bragg—will speak at the Myers' Grand.

The band will play and honest money advocates will march. General Bragg is a democrat, but he will not talk for democracy here.

Neither will he talk for republicanism. He will talk for national honor, and a dollar that is a dollar at all times and at all places.

People who believe that the high standing of the United should be maintained—democrats and republicans alike—will meet on common ground tonight.

They will not be asked to vote for William McKinley.

They may not be asked to vote for Palmer and Buckner.

But they will be asked to vote against Bryan and Sewall-Watson.

The general arrived in the city on the noon train from Oshkosh, and was at once driven to the Hotel Myers.

Railway Clubs to March.

General Bragg will have a non-partisan escort. The members of the Railway Men's Sound Money Club will turn out—one hundred or more strong, it is thought—and march to the opera house.

Each man will carry a red and white lantern and wear a ribbon badge. The Imperial band will march at the head of the procession. President Hinrichs completed arrangements for the club's first appearance this morning. The employees of each road will march by themselves, the procession leaving the depot for the opera house at 7:30 o'clock.

Dr. J. B. Whiting will preside at the meeting.

A number of farmers have signified their intention of being present.

The Grand Army post will not attend in a body, but most of them will be present as citizens.

M'KEE'S CASE NOT CALLED TODAY.

Police Are Making Further Investigations Before Taking Action.

Frank McKee, the telegraph student, was not brought into court this morning to answer to the charge of stealing Robert Carruthers' overcoat. The police looked through McKee's trunk today, and found a new type writer, and they are now endeavoring to learn where he got it.

Officer Hogan arrested McKee, as stated in The Gazette last night and the following articles were recovered. F. C. Burpee's bicycle stolen, Sept. 7. Robert Carruthers' overcoat. Edward Allen's watch.

A mackintosh owned by another student.

Student Wheeler's silk umbrella.

McKee confessed the theft of all the articles except the bicycle.

CAN'T CARRY DOUBLE THE LAW DECLARES

JOHN WINANS NOMINATED TOO OFTEN.

Statutes Provide Against His Serving As Assemblymen and Elector, Too, A Fact That Wasn't Considered as Relevant by the Various Democratic Conventions.

Too much of a load was piled upon John Winans by the democratic conventions this summer. They figured that he was used to grief and could stand it better than a young man so they made him elector-at-large on the fusion ticket and nominated him for the assembly in the First district of Rock county. It was understood, of course, that he could not serve as elector and assemblyman too, but the chance of his election seemed slim enough to make such hair-splitting superfluous.

The admission of impending defeat that such trifling with election laws implied, began to make talk, however. Even if the chance of victory were very remote, there was no use in denying its existence altogether, some of the leaders remarked. They urged that Mr. Winans throw up one nomination or the other.

What will be done is uncertain. Chairman Isaac Connors of the democratic assembly committee, said this afternoon that Mr. Winans had not talked of resigning. If any change were made, he said, it was likely to be the substitution of William Smith, or some other silver democrat for Mr. Winans on the electoral ticket.

THOSE OF MAJOR M'KINLEY.

The American People Have Taken the Measure of These Two Men and the Unworthy One Will Be Repudiated on November 3.

There is no more impressive feature of this campaign than the personal contrast between the two opposing presidential candidates, as shown in their speeches, in their treatment of the great issues involved in the contest and in the respective attitudes of their points of view.

From the sophomoric rant and fusian of the boy orator, with his meretricious appeals to class prejudice and passion; with his shallow sophistries, his blind dogmatism of ignorant and preposterous assertion; his plenitude of words and his paucity of ideas—the American people turn with mingled contempt and indignation to mark the quiet and simple dignity of William McKinley; the elevated tone and comprehensive breadth of his plain and short addresses to all classes of his fellow citizens; their epigrammatic conciseness of phrase, compact of well-ordered and well-considered thought and instinct, with a broad and generous patriotism that springs from a genuine sympathy with the toiling masses and a profound comprehension of the interdependence of all classes and all interests. Bryan addresses himself to the ignorance and the hatreds of the classes; McKinley to the intelligence and patriotism of the masses.

The American people have taken the measure of these two men, and have accepted the revelation which each has unconsciously made of his character. In the one is recognized the reckless and dangerous demagogue; in the other the wise and patriotic American statesman.

Bryan has sunk in public estimation with every speech he has made. McKinley has risen in the respect and admiration of the American people every day since the nomination. Behind the latter stretches a long record of useful and earnest public service, as a soldier, a legislator, a statesman, the masterful executive of a great state, and which have trained him for the great duties and responsibilities of the august office to which the American people have invited him. Behind the former lies no career of civil activity which affords any guarantee of his fitness for that office. His little public has been confined to the platform. His world the stage on which he has strutted his brief hours of sound and fury.

The one was selected for the chief magistracy of the public by the well-matured and deliberate voice of the great republican party from among the most honored statesmen of the republic. The other had not been dreamed of as a possible candidate when, by a theatrical burst of oratory, he tricked a nomination out of the transitory wave of emotional applause which followed from a tumultuous assemblage of fanatics, anarchists and lunatics.

Both men have stood for three months in the full glare of public criticism. The Ohio man has stood every test of character and fitness for the great trust to which he has been summoned. Even those of other political parties who differ with him on minor matters of legislation, know that he can be safely entrusted with the stupendous powers and responsibilities of the presidential office; that he would maintain the honor of the government and faithfully guard all the constitutional safeguards of liberty and justice.

But, one after the exhibition which Bryan made of himself would trust him for a day with the guidance of the destinies of this great republic.

The remotest possibility of his election fills the American people with just apprehension. For they see in it an era of distress and calamity and national dishonor such as the republic never before confronted, even in the darkest hours of the Rebellion.

In the election of McKinley they feel that they can confidently look forward to the revival of all the conditions of industrial and commercial activity, and to the inauguration of a new and golden era of prosperity and peace.—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

What the Pops Have Abandoned. New York World (Dem.): The free silver managers have abandoned their campaign in the East. There will be a few more speeches by Mr. Bryan, in fulfillment of engagements heretofore made, and some spasmodic jerks and twitches to show that life is not quite extinct though hope is gone. But the effort to capture any of "the enemy's country" is over.

It is well to note what has been abandoned. It includes the nine states of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania. These states have together 117 electoral votes, of which fifty-two were cast for the successful democratic candidate in 1892.

With them might as well be included as hopeless for free silver the states of Delaware and Maryland, with eleven electoral votes, also given to Mr. Cleveland, making sixty-three surrendered or lost to start with.

These eleven states cast over 1,800,000 democratic votes, or nearly one-third the entire vote for Cleveland. They have 128 electoral votes. This is a pretty big vote to abandon nearly six weeks before the election.

The surrender verifies the estimate made by the World in its "Situation in a Nutshell" a month ago. Taking these eleven states as a start, we showed that McKinley would need to carry only six more to insure his election—Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Ohio and Wisconsin having together 101 electoral votes. This would give him, with the 128 conceded, 229 electors, or five more than are necessary. Any possible losses from this list would quite surely be made good from the doubtful states of Minnesota, Kentucky, California, North Carolina and West Virginia.

With the East abandoned, the battle is to be fought out in the populous states of the Central West, all of which were carried by the republicans by large majorities at the last two elections.

My voice is as

My vocal chords are

And the winds of heaven make their Home in my lungs.

Who Owns Him.

In his speech at Wilmington, Del., Bryan said:

"I have been called an Anarchist because I have opposed the trusts and syndicates which would manage this country. I am glad to have the opposition of these men. I am glad that if I am elected there is not a trust or syndicate that can come to me and say: 'We put you there, now pay us back.'"

Bryan can't possibly tell the truth under any circumstances. He is called an Anarchist because he is pleading for the Chicago platform, which is full of anarchy, and because he is the candidate of all the anarchists in America. And Tillman and Altgeld are his preceptors.

Bryan himself was conspicuous in the very democratic congress that sold out to the sugar trust, the whiskey trust, the lead trust and the oil trust.

At this time Bryan is the candidate of the silver miners' trust, the trust that is buying workingmen with guns in Colorado, and his campaign expenses are being met by this trust. He is riding all over the country in parlor cars and the silver trust pays the freight.

If Bryan should be elected the silver trust would own his body and soul, and would say: "We put you there, now pay us back." And Bryan would pay if he could.—Cleveland Leader.

Crape de Chine in Pale Tints—Black Crape For Widows.

For various dress purposes crape de chine in very light tones is much worn. Pearl gray, ivory and similar shades are greatly favored. Gowns of this material are adorned with Louis Seize bows of lace over color. Deep mourning—that is, the mourning worn by a widow—includes a skirt almost entirely covered with crape, for this material, far from becoming obsolete, as certain authorities to whom the wish is father to the thought have announced, is more lavishly worn than ever by bereaved persons of fashion. A bias band of crape 15 or 18 inches wide around the foot of the skirt is the least amount that can be worn consistently with the mode. If the mourning gown is for a less near relative, the band may be narrower or may be replaced by quilles of crape at each side of the tablier. The bodice is, of course, adorned with revers, collar, vest, cuffs, etc., of crape, while the hat or bonnet is of crape alone, a white ruche around the brim being, of course, worn by widows. The princess gown, made rather long, is now also favored by the latter.

Scotch and Indian cashmeres, serge, etamine and woolen crape are fashionable mourning goods. When the time has arrived that crape may be put aside, black mousseline de soie takes its place.

Women who find the long crape veil too heavy for comfort, and who are in the stage of mourning where it may permissibly be replaced by something lighter, employ thick black silk net instead. This, finished with a wide hem, looks equally well and is far less oppressive.

Boule goods are to be largely worn again. The costume illustrated is of this material and has a skirt finished around the foot with a stitched hem, while it is fitted at the top by rows of shirring. The square, short bolero is decorated with stitching and opens over a Breton chemisette embroidered with gold and colors. The wide corset is of satin. Small pearl buttons adorn the front of the bolero. The tight sleeves have a small puff at the top, terminating in a ruffle. A white, turned down collar and a black satin cravat finish the costume.

SLEEVES AND SKIRTS.

The Former Have Shrunken Tremendously, the Latter Following Suit.

In spite of the repeated warnings that have been given of the diminution in the size of sleeves, the newest models are rather a shock to eyes accustomed to the late breadth and fullness. The up-to-date woman has a slim and shrunken appearance that gives an impression of weakness and fragility until the observer realizes that the woman herself is as large as ever and that it is only her sleeves that have become emaciated. America is always a little behind the times in such matters, and she lags particularly this season in the matter of skirts. In Paris the latter are worn much smaller. If they are still ample, they are far less flaring and form less of a contrast with the narrower sleeves.

The differing skirt and bodice appear with as much pertinacity this winter as if their demise had not been announced 18 months ago. There is often now, however, some sort of connecting link between them—that is, the skirt color or decoration appears in the bodice trimmings. The bolero, so fashionable at present, affords a new way of varying corsages and is an excuse for many combinations of color and schemes of ornamentation. Moreover, it adapts itself wonderfully well to plans for making over gowns and is altogether an adaptable and desirable style. The bolero par excellence is of velvet, that being the favorite trimming material this winter, and a corset of velvet is an appropriate accompaniment. These velvet corsets require to be made very carefully to avoid clumsiness about the waist.

The costume illustrated has a skirt of beige amazon cloth, the foot of which is ornamented with embroidery, which forms ascending points. The bodice is of ruby velvet, slightly gathered at the waist in front. It has a very short ruffled basque, trimmed with three bands of violet velvet ribbon. The sleeves are of beige cloth, embroidered all over, and there are ruffled sleeve capes of ruby velvet trimmed like the basque and lined with violet satin. A band of violet velvet ribbon forms the belt and outlines a corset in front, where it is fastened by a bow and paste buckle.

The man with a weight on his leg can't hope to win in the race. A man with a weight on his health can't expect to compete in life and business with those who are not handicapped. If his brain is heavy, and his blood sluggish, because of constipation, he will not succeed in doing anything very well. Constipation is the cause of nine-tenths of all sickness. Symptoms of it are sallowness, listlessness, poor appetite, bad taste in the mouth, dizziness, biliousness, and lassitude. Constipation can be cured easily and certainly by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are not at all violent in their action, and yet they are more certain than many medicines which are so strong that they put the system all out of order. The great advantage of the "Pleasant Pellets" is that they cure permanently.
